Reimagining School Leadership in Changing Times

A gathering of principals, school leaders and educational promoters to explore what the next decade asks of our schools. Drawing on perspectives from around the world, the summit will consider how school leadership and learning must evolve in changing times.

About Lifology

Lifology is a global education organisation working across the European Union, the United States and India in career technology and future-skills education. In partnership with Finland 2030, it brings the Finnish model of education to Indian schools through Curriculum 2030, developed with the University of Helsinki HY+. Its FutureX global immersions and CareerX career programmes give students hands-on experience and recognised credentials. Every student leaves with a portfolio of real work. More than 200 partner schools in over 12 countries work with Lifology, and over 3,000 students have completed its programmes.
